Montana Politicos Comment on Ouster

The three members of Montana's four-member congressional delegation who answered Kaimin telegrams yesterday, giving their stands on the MacArthur dismissal, pretty much followed their parties' lines in their opinions on the issue.

Rep. Mike Mansfield's statement had not been received by press time last night.

Rep. Wesley D'Ewart, Republican congressman from the eastern Montana district wired:

"MacArthur was the No. 1 bulwark against Communism in Asia. His removal strengthens the Kremlin, contributes nothing to peace. I have received 200 letters and telegrams from Montana, only two of which support the President."

Taking the opposite stand was Democratic Senator James E. Murray:

"Upon the basis of admitted facts and provisions of the constitution, the removal of MacArthur was unavoidable. MacArthur courted such action by his vain and deliberate conduct and the President would have been guilty of cowardice and malfeasance if he acted otherwise."

"MacArthur's policy was backed by a political clique in this country and was deliberately intended to draw us into war on the continent of Asia on the theory that the conflict with Communism can be settled there. If we followed MacArthur we would eventually become involved in an all-out war with Russia on the Asiatic continent, thus playing right into the hands of the Kremlin."

"Unfortunately, the falsehood and slander devices of dishonest politicians seem to be the most potent forces in America at the moment; but the facts cannot be altered and the President eventually will be vindicated by the American people for his courageous act."

Republican Senator Zales N. Ecton agreed with D'Ewart:

"The dismissal of General MacArthur was an inexcusable and dangerous move. The Communists and their sympathizers are jubilant, as disclosed by reports from Moscow, Peking, and by the Communist newspaper in America, the Daily Worker. The issue is greater than any personality, but MacArthur symbolized freedom's cause in all Asia, and America's good will and friendship for the Japanese, Nationalist Chinese and other Asiatics in the path of the Red conquerors.

"The way is now paved for further piecemeal appeasement and recognition of Red China by the United Nations. MacArthur's ouster will create greater confusion of issues, both here and abroad, and actually will prolong the struggle and the sacrifice of American lives instead of victorious peace in Korea."

Aber Day Work Areas Assigned

Aber day clean-up areas were assigned to faculty members yesterday as plans for the annual campus holiday neared final readiness.

Clean-up Chairman John Badgley, Missoula, listed 14 areas for the faculty. He said campus maps showing all assigned work areas would be posted in residence halls and fraternity and sorority houses.

A trophy will be awarded for the best-cleaned area. Each group will be rated on its cleanup job by a judging committee composed of Dean of Students Herbert J. Wunderlich, Senior Academic Dean Gordon B. Castle, and Dean Ross A. Williams of the forestry school.

The worksheet listing all the cleanup jobs will be published in the special early morning Kaimin Aber day morning. It also may be published in a regular Kaimin issue prior to Aber day.

Aber Day Chairman Gordon Stewart, Forsyth, can call the holiday any time this week or next week. Student speculation favors some day next week, since the Grizzly band left for a week-long tour yesterday.

Don Cole, Poplar, heads the law school committee which is drawing up a script for high court. He will be supreme justice for the annual kangaroo trials of campus wheels.

Debaters Face Nation's Best In Tourney

Three MSU debaters left yesterday to compete in the National Debate tournament at the United States Military academy, West Point, N. Y. They are John Spielman, Butte, team captain; Dean Jellison, Kalispell; and Joan Gibson, Butte.

Spielman and Wade Dahood, Anaconda, qualified the University to enter a team in the national meet by placing second at the Northwest elimination tourney last month. They placed second in competition with 38 teams from Northwest schools.

The University team will be facing the cream of the crop in debating teams at the West Point tournament, according to Ralph Y. McGinnis, debate coach. There will be 32 teams entered in the tournament from all parts of the United States, he said.

Spielman is a senior majoring in history. He and Jellison, who was captain of last year's debate team, placed fifth at the West Point tournament last year.

Miss Gibson, a junior majoring in speech, is an alternate debater. She was a member of this year's state champion debate team.

Dean Ford said a special journalism seminar course would be set up for the foreign newsmen in which they would study American press history, news techniques, mechanical developments, newspapers, magazines, press associations, and radio. They also will analyze public opinion and propaganda and study the responsibilities and obligations of the press in a free, democratic society.

The Germans will meet one day a week with the regular senior seminar class and take courses in current events, U. S. history, American government and politics, state and local government, and comparative governments. Room will be left in their schedules for elective courses in their special interest fields.

J-School Selected to Train Nine German Newspapermen

MSU's School of Journalism has been selected by the State department as one of three American colleges with journalism schools to train German newspapermen.

Nine Western Germans will enroll at MSU next fall for one year's study. They are part of a group of 28 newsmen being brought to the United States by the State department's division of exchange personnel.

The group will come to this country "as a part of the general re-orientation and re-education program for Germany," according to Oliver J. Caldwell, chief of the federal program branch of the division of exchange of personnel.

Regular Classwork

Their training will involve regular classwork and practical orientation in the operations of the American press gathered from visits to newspaper plants and radio stations in this area.

Dean James L. C. Ford of the MSU journalism school will act as co-ordinator of their training program.

The Germans will range in age from 25 to 35 and will have had at least four or five years of newspaper experience, Dean Ford said.

The State department will pay for the Germans' board, room, travel, books and other supplies, part of the co-ordinator's salary,

Why Shouldn't Store Board Be Responsible to ASMSU?

To whom is Store board responsible?

The answer that is usually received is a matter-of-fact reply: "Why the student body, of course." But as it is pretty hard to be responsible to a couple of thousand bodies walking about the campus, the chain of accountability has rusted away.

One would assume that Central board functioned as a watch dog over the student store. One would assume that Store board would be subservient to the only governing body that meets weekly and has the powers of the student body vested in it.

But one's assumptions are not correct in this case. The chain of responsibility for Store board by-passes Central board and goes directly to the student body, who are often sadly apathetic regarding the operations of their government.

There is nothing in either the constitution of ASMSU or the student store that binds the two governing bodies together. As far as I can ascertain, the two bodies, Store board and ASMSU, are entities complete in themselves.

In other words, the top dogs in the student store are the Store board representatives. The student body has only an ineffective check upon Store board once a year, by election. The check is ineffective because the representatives are elected, they serve their term, and they pass out of college life into the wide world. There is no check upon them while they serve their term; they need not even attend meetings and they usually don't. No reports concerning the student store are required to be made to Central board nor to the student newspaper.

And Store board practice substantiates this. In the three years that I have served on Central board as a delegate there has never been a report, financial or otherwise, delivered to that body from Store board or the store authorities.

To my knowledge, there has never been in the past three years a published report in the Kaimin of any of Store board's activities or of its annual financial statements. Although this is, probably, largely the fault of the editors for not aggressively covering the meetings, the outstanding fact remains that no real effort has been made on the part of Store board to gain publicity for their activities for the benefit of the student stockholders.

Authority should be centralized in one body that is responsible at all times and that has its proceedings covered in detail in the campus newspaper columns. That body is Central board. Store board by legal dictum should be given a status subservient to Central board. This should not present difficulties because the stockholders in the student store are precisely the same individuals that make up the Associated Students of Montana State University. The election qualifications of Store board members and their terms of office should be made explicit and then abided by.

These corrections will aid in bringing Store board back under active control by the student body.—D. W.

JESSE CHALLENGES

Editor:

The erudite and (now that spring has come) athletically inclined faculty, having taught the pusillanimous pups of the senior class all the proper knowledge which these seniors possess, is of the opinion that it can still teach them many things hitherto unseen on land or sea about the game of softball. Therefore, we will, if they dare, meet them at softball on the afternoon of Aber day for money, marbles, chalk, grade points, diplomas and other considerations.

Our honorary captain is Bill "Missouri Mule" Leaphart. Our active manager, to whom all communications should be addressed, is Kirk "Pinch-Penny" Badgley.

Our seniority, of course, entitles us to select all umpires and, without previous announcement, to put into effect, in order to meet any unforeseen exigencies, any modifications of the rules that may be suggested by our legal counsel, Carl "Commissioner" McFarland.

Yours for Aber Day,
R. H. "Cannie Mack" Jesse.

(We are glad the faculty has narrowed the competition down to a challenge just against the seniors this year, since the members of that class are growing old and slow and will probably provide only mediocre competition. Mediocre in the sense that the seniors will only be able to beat the faculty about 40 to 0. If the challenge had been issued against the whole student body, the semblance of competition would have been gone.—Ed.)

Grizzlies-BYU Split In First Skyline Play

Initial Skyline Eight competition for the Montana Grizzlies in baseball, tennis, and golf gave the Silvertips a three-sport split with BYU last Friday. While the tennis squad tasted defeat, the golf team almost whitewashed the Cougars. The baseball team continued the even break by winning one and losing the other.

TENNIS

The game but outclassed MSU net team recorded a two-win, seven-loss score sheet after their season-opening tussle with last year's Skyline conference champs, Brigham Young university, Friday.

"They have a very good club," Jack Moody, tennis coach, said upon returning from the Provo trip. "They had an advantage there practice prior to the match as concerned," he said.

"There is a possibility that the team line-up will be rearranged this week, before we meet Utah State college this Friday," Moody said.

Wing Wins

Bob Nogler, Stevensville, won his singles match and the Ted Crawford, Billings-Pete Densmore, Tonrovia, Calif., combination proved too much for one pair of YU tennis men.

Other Grizzly netmen making the trip were Park Densmore, Tonrovia, Calif., Jim Wylder, Favre, and Bob Kramer, Richmond, Calif.

BASEBALL

Hitting isn't everything the Grizzlies found out at Provo, Utah, last Friday as Chinske's diamondmen split a twin bill with the BYU Cougars. Erratic fielding, despite good hitting, caused the Grizzlies' downfall in the first game as they committed six errors.

The errors in the opening innings, plus mental lapses and a big BYU fourth inning gave the Cougars an 8-to-4 win over the Grizzlies. This game marked the first Skyline Eight baseball competition for the Silvertips.

The Grizzlies came back in the second game to settle down in the field and continue their hitting prowess by belting BYU pitching for four runs in the first inning of the seven-inning tilt.

Carlson Had Trouble

Gene Carlson, Great Falls, worked good six innings before BYU got to him in the seventh for all their runs. The Grizzlies added runs throughout to win, 10 to 6.

Dick Hansen, Worden, chucked the first game for the Grizzlies and allowed nine hits and eight runs. Carlson relieved him in the ninth.

Then Carlson went on to pitch the second tilt and give up seven hits and six runs. Carlson also helped his cause with a triple.

Don Olson, Butte, and Bob Byrne, Billings, led the stout Grizzly hitting attack with four hits in eight trips apiece.

GOLF

MSU's link squad opened its 1951 and first Skyline Eight golf matches with a convincing victory over the BYU Cougars at Provo Friday, 15 to 1.

Montana's team of Prescott Towle, Dick Hubbard, and Lee and Bob Williams was at no time in danger of losing the match. They started in front and continued to increase their lead. They took nine out of ten points in the individual scoring and took all six points in the best ball competition.

The one point garnered by the Cougars came in the early rounds of the singles matches when Pick Nelson, BYU linkster, carded the best score on the first nine holes of play.

Lee Williams and Hubbard shot the best scores for MSU with identical scores of 73, one over par. Williams shot a 149 for the 18 holes over the 6,177-yard course at the Timpangos golf club.

The best scores by BYU were four-over par 76's by Nelson and Lynn Bell.

Dr. Don Barnett, Grizzly coach, said the Silvertips played exceptionally well for being hampered by the cold weather here and the lack of practice.

Phi Delts Win Swim Meet

If the House of Murphy had joined forces Saturday morning in the intramural swimming meet, it could have taken the tank tourney almost singlehanded. But they were paddling for different houses and their split effort resulted in the house of Phi Delta Theta winning the meet with 30 points.

Chick Murphy, PDT, took first in the 40-yard free style for six points; Jerry Murphy won the 80-yard backstroke for Sigma Nu; and Sigma Chi Jim Murphy grabbed the 80-yard free style.

In the only other individual event, Jim Murphy lost the 80-yard breast stroke by a finger's length to Sigma Nu's Carl Suhr. The winning Phi Delts amassed over half their points by taking both relays, the 60-yard medley and the 160-yard free style, each worth eight points for the victor.

Other total scores were: Sigma Chi, 28; Sigma Nu, 25; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 16; and Theta Chi, 5.

Sigma Nu was disqualified in the 160-yard relay when one of their men jumped the gun. Had they won or placed second in the event, they could have taken the meet by at least one point.

Corbin hall and Theta Chi will battle at the Forestry Nursery field No. 1; Kappa Psi meets Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Forestry Nursery field No. 2; and Phi Delta Theta will meet Alpha Tau Omega at the Clover bowl, in today's games. All games start at 4:15.

League A—Corbin hall, Kappa Psi, South hall, South hall, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi, Phi Sigma Kappa.

League B—Phi Delta Theta, Delta Sigma Phi, Jumbo hall, Sigma Chi, Row houses, Forestry club, Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Phi Omega.

Women's Softball Features Hitting

Both games in the women's intramural softball round-robin turned into a slugging match Thursday as Alpha Phi pounded out a 19 to 15 win over Sigma Kappa and Kappa Alpha Theta downed Delta Gamma, 18 to 13.

Theta took a first inning lead of 10 runs in their game and held it throughout the game.

Sigma Kappa lead Alpha Phi 8 to 5 until the end of the third inning when their pitcher, Joan Arnold, Malta, was injured and left the game. Alpha Phi then picked up seven runs in each of the last two innings.
